How do I log in to my Google Apps for Education account? All new students are automatically assigned a Clemson Google Apps for Education account. The username will be your Clemson username@g.clemson.edu. The password will be the characters "cu###" (lower case and without the quotes) plus the last four numbers of your social security number (SSN). It will look like: cu##9999 replacing the "9999" with the last four numbers of your SSN. You can login to your Google Apps Account by visiting <http://gmail.com> or <http://g.clemson.edu>.

If the initial password does not work, please see the following page and click the link that says "Reset my Google Apps Password". This will generate a new password at the top of the page, and you will need to copy and paste this into the password spot in Gmail. Once you log in, you will be asked to create your own new password for this account. Please remember that the Google Apps password is separate from your Clemson University password, so resetting one will not reset the other. To change your Clemson university password (for iRoar/canvas/eduroam etc. please go to https://clemson.edu/change\_password)
