Compatibility between Clemson email lists and Google Apps for Education Yes. You should receive all listserv messages in your new Google Apps for Education account as long as you are subscribed to the list from either: @Clemson.edu address Google Apps for Education address Sending Listserv Messages to non-Clemson lists:

After your Google Apps for Education account is activated, it is imperative that you add your @Clemson.edu address to your Google Apps for Education account so you can send messages to non-Clemson listservs to which you are subscribed. When you need to send a message to a listserv or reply to a message that was received from a closed listserv, be sure to select the @Clemson.edu address from the drop down list in the From field before sending any email to the listserv. Also make sure that you have selected the Reply from the same address the message was sent to option.
